

Rev. Angela Johnson, C'95 affectionately known as “Pastor Angie,” received her Master of Divinity from Candler School of Theology at Emory University and her Bachelor of Arts degree in English from Spelman College. Angie is originally from New York City and has resided in Atlanta, Ga. for close to 30 years. She is the mother of two amazing teenage sons, Johari (17) and Ayinde (15).

Angie identifies as a HEALER. She has served as a prison chaplain intern at Jimmy Helm’s Transitional Center ministering to pregnant and terminally ill inmates, a college chaplain intern at Emory University, and a Chaplain Resident at Wesley Woods Behavioral Health/Psychiatric Hospital at Emory University Hospital. She is an animator/facilitator for Fearless Dialogues, a grassroots organization committed to creating unique spaces for unlikely partners to engage in hard heartfelt conversations. She is also a provisional Elder in the North Georgia Conference of the United Methodist Church and is the newly appointed Associate Pastor of Central United Methodist Church in Atlanta, GA.
